I also own a language certificate in English, FCE
Currently, I have been studying Chinese language (Mandarin) for more than four years.

Organisational skills and competences	I participated in volunteering activities as mentor and non-tech member at a programming event, MegaDojo in 2016. During my student years, I participated in summer international projects for volunteering on "Youth in action" and "Let's volunteer together", where I gained leadership skills, stress and time management skills.
Technical skills and competences	During my student years, I participated in the "Adolf Haimovici National Contest in Mathematics" and in "InfoTech Contest in Computer Science". The second contest was about Microsoft Office tools. At university, I participated in workshops, seminars, trainings, summer/ winter schools, symposiums and conferences. Some of these participations implied a paper presentation. All these events were related to the computer science domain. Currently, I am involved as a member of a research project on computer science, which implies network analysis and pattern identification.
